Idaho Organizations Team Up to Present Special Class on Cooking with Lamb – from Butchering to Plate

Four Idaho organizations are teaming up to present a special culinary class on Cooking with Lamb – from Butchering to Plate on Wednesday, May 31, from 1:30 pm to 4:00 pm at the Sun Valley Culinary Institute in Ketchum. The partners are FARE Idaho, the Sun Valley Culinary Institute, the Trailing of the Sheep Festival and the University of Idaho. The class will feature Professor Phil Bass with the University of Idaho Meat Sciences Department leading a session on lamb butchery and Sun Valley Culinary Institute's Culinary Director, Andy Floyd, leading a session utilizing Idaho lamb and locally sourced products. Chef Floyd will demonstrate the preparation of Roasted Rack of Lamb with a Roasted Garlic Syrah Demi-Glace Sauce with Ratatouille for the class and two additional lamb dishes will also be prepared in advance for tasting.

Attendees will enjoy a late lunch at the conclusion of the class.

“We are excited to be working cooperatively with FARE Idaho, Sun Valley Culinary Institute, and the University of Idaho to present this special culinary class focused on how to butcher and prepare lamb produced by an Idaho rancher. It is a great opportunity for us to partner together to present a unique event for the community,” shared Laura Musbach Drake, Executive Director of the Trailing of the Sheep Festival.

The cost to participate in the class is $50.00 with limited spaces available. To reserve a spot, go to https://fare.wildapricot.org/event-5242234
